FEES FOR THE REPRODUCTION OF IMAGES

Digital reproductions of graphic works or documents for editorial purposes, if not already available, are carried out by a professional photographer, and the costs are borne entirely by the applicant. A quote will be provided on a case-by-case basis.

If the files are already available, no additional reproduction fee is required for editorial purposes; only the publication fee applies (see below).

Reproductions for study purposes of graphic works or documents not previously reproduced may be made by the applicant using their own non-professional equipment (smartphones or similar devices, without flash or other light sources, without a tripod), for a maximum of 10 (ten) shots, subject to prior authorization.

In the case of files already available, these will be provided free of charge in low resolution only if they are not available online.

Presentations for conferences, seminars, etc., as well as doctoral dissertations and bachelor's or master's theses, fall under the category of study purposes, for which a maximum of 10 (ten) low-resolution images will be provided.

Special requests for study purposes sent exclusively via email will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis, and, for documents only, if low-resolution reproduction within the A4 format is possible, a fee of €3 per scan will be applied.

The Accademia Nazionale di San Luca reserves the right to approve or deny requests for digital reproduction at any resolution—whether performed by a professional photographer or by the applicant—depending on the condition of the originals.
